

Risk Warning & Disclaimers

Participants of the AMOS Initial Coin Offering (hereafter referred to as the “ICO”) should refer to the AMOS Whitepaper for detailed information for a comprehensive understanding of the potential risks as well as benefits and technical properties associated with this investment. If you do not understand or do not agree to these terms, we recommend you not to participate in the AMOS ICO.

The AMOS project Team will follow the content in the disclosed Whitepaper, reasonably utilizing the Ethereum raised in the ICO, properly managing the project. The AMOS project Team will fulfill our duties, and exhibit honesty, credibility, and diligence.

Potential Risks Associated with AMOS ICO and AMOS Token

1. Policy Risk: Most countries in the world currently do not have a clear regulatory regime in place for managing ICO project. As a result, ICO investors may be filled with various expectations as well as fears of what might come next. As governments introduce or modify their policy towards ICO project, the market may react with extreme price volatility. ICO participants may experience significant asset risks due to such extreme price volatility.
2. Economic Risk: Economic conditions will have direct and indirect effects on the progress of ICO project development and the management of Ethereum. The project Team will adjust the progress of the project development accordingly and promptly make public of such decision.
3. Internet Attack Risk: Internet attacks result in frequent and yet uncertain security risks. These attacks result in negative effects that are detrimental to the development of project and the management of Ethereum. Even when the project Team has already established a well- designed internet technology security architecture to defend against external attacks, attacks by hackers, computer viruses, and Trojans using updated or mutated techniques can result in risks that are difficult to predict. We cannot provide any form of compensation for any loss incurred by AMOS ICO participants due to events of force majeure.

4. Technical and Development Risk: The concept of ICO project have already been conceptually proven upon activation, but this is a brand new project that has never existed in the past. So we cannot exclude technical difficulties that may arise during technical testing and the lack of foresight in the technical roadmap. As a result, the project Team may face unexpected or unsolvable technical difficulties, resulting in negative effects on the development process. Investors need to be aware of the risks associated with the development this project.
5. AMOS Token Holding Risk: Use of AMOS tokens will be limited by users and market acceptance. Upon conclusion of the project test and once the AMOS tokens are released into the digital currency exchange for circulation. The general acceptance of AMOS tokens is then subjected to uncertainties of the market. We cannot provide any form of compensation for any loss incurred by participants of the AMOS ICO.
6. Token Price Volatility Risk: Once AMOS tokens are released into the digital currency exchange for circulation, its price can experience extreme volatility due to manipulations by certain parties as well as global government policies. This extreme volatility is aided by the fact that unlike financial markets, there are no circuit breakers in place on digital currency exchanges. Furthermore, these exchanges operate 24 hours each day. Purchasers of the AMOS token may lack the information to properly assess the value of the token. Therefore, the AMOS

Team does not guarantee, suggest, or infer any market price or value for the AMOS token. Holders of the token should understand the volatility of the Ethereum market; its value can experience extreme fluctuation. Investors should consider carefully of the above risks with a clear mind when evaluating this project, properly managing their personal financial status and the ability to tolerate risks when making financial decisions and bear the full risks associated with the investment. We cannot provide any form of compensation for the fluctuating market price or value of the token.

7. Legal Risks: Residents of the People's Republic of China, Hong Kong SAR, and Macao SAR need to comply with the relevant laws and regulations of the legal jurisdiction in which they reside. Residents of other countries also need to comply with the laws and regulations of the legal jurisdiction they reside. Participants in the ICO are asked to fully understand and agree to the AMOS token investment risk warning. If participants are in violation of laws and regulations, this project Team cannot be legally held responsible for the violation.
8. Token Safekeeping and the Risk of Losing Tokens: After the conclusion of ICO activities, the project Team will no longer be responsible for the safekeeping of AMOS tokens. Participants of the ICO need to secure all AMOS tokens properly themselves. We cannot provide any form of compensation in the event where AMOS tokens are stolen or are lost due to human factors (example: lost in a transaction operation) or natural disasters (example: fire, flooding, storms, and other acts of God).
9. Token Recharge and Transfer Risks: Currently most third-party platforms can potentially be subjected to significant risks such as hacking when transferring tokens that result in the complete loss of tokens. Investors must personally confirm the safety and integrity of the transfer. We cannot provide any form of compensation in the event of losses incurred during token transfer due to negligence or theft.
10. Taxation Risks: Taxation involving AMOS tokens is still uncertain. Future events can result in taxation that has adverse financial effects for the purchaser of AMOS tokens. We cannot provide any form of compensation.
